

Health & Education Coordinator
Communications & External Affairs
Quality Meat Scotland

Are you passionate about working with young people and have experience working in the agricultural sector?

If you have answered 'yes', then Quality Meat Scotland (QMS) has the role for you!

QMS is the Scottish Red Meat Levy body. We work with the Scottish red meat industry to support, protect, promote, and develop the people and products that make up the Scottish red meat sector.

We have an exciting opportunity in our new Communications & External Affairs department for a Health & Education Coordinator, who will lead QMS's outreach work with schools and higher education institutions as well as work closely with partners such as the Royal Highland Education Trust (RHET) to deliver exciting and educational events for young people throughout Scotland.

In addition to leading on QMS's meat voucher scheme, the role will include delivering presentations to schools, educators, and stakeholders across the red meat supply chain on the industry's sustainability credentials, including human health, animal welfare and environmental messaging.

As a Health & Education Coordinator at QMS, no two working days will be the same. One day you could be working organising a class cookery demonstration as part of Lamb for St Andrew's Day, and another you could be supporting a farm visit with RHET. You will be supported in the role by our Communications & External Affairs department, as well as other members of the wider QMS team.

This role is a permanent and full-time position, however, we are focused on getting the right candidate, so flexible working patterns could be considered. Our office is based in the outskirts of Edinburgh, however there is also a great deal of flexibility on location and the job will involve travel to schools and other locations.

We offer a comprehensive remuneration and reward package, including a competitive salary, 25 days holidays plus statutory holidays, company maternity policy and 10% employer pension contribution.
